Thanks to all our new friends in the design and renovations community of Ottawa who supported Bruce House in so many ways during our hospice renovation in 2005. These renovations have not only vastly improved the function and comfort of the house, but media coverage related to the project really helped our agency build a profile in the community. Ottawa designers and contractors donated time and talent to transform a tired AIDS hospice into a cozy, bright refuge as they gutted and expanded 461 Evered Ave.

Oak Ridge Construction donated time and effort alongside 2H Interior Design and Gerhard Linse Design & Building Consultants to update the old building's foyer and multipurpose room, offering fresh new spaces for men and women dealing with AIDS to receive unconditional support. Bruce House was honored to have some of the finest designers and craftsmen in the Ottawa region donating their talents in making Bruce House a home.
